

METAL WALL RACK

We made a wall rack for a client. The design consisted of two corner profiles, connecting rods, brackets and shelves. The corner profiles and the shelf supports were punched out of one plate. When I went to Düsseldorf to take a look in the shop where the rack had been placed, I noticed just how beautiful the rack actually is. It was not difficult to make, which was necessary given the time frame in which it was manufactured, so we have decided to include the shelf unit in our collection. The shelves will later be given their own attractive box. The racks are available in three sizes and one is designed as a standing rack. They are all available in brass, copper, aluminium and coated metal.
